LORIDON

Grand Cru - Blanc de Blancs

«Speaking about terroir, it's undoubtedly a story of passion and authenticity. Producing a single vineyard cuvée ensures the expression of a unique plot while the Champagne Appellation promotes the blending of several crus. In this way, I wish to highlight the influence of a unique terroir on a very singular fruit: the grape.»

Francis TRIBAUT

LORIDON is a vineyard of 1.60 Ha located on the hills of Aÿ-Champagne, planted exclusively with chardonnay vines, it is the emblem of LALLIER. On these lands, the vineyard offers a beautiful chalky soil and a semi-continental climate. The combination of these elements, all intimately linked, reflects the typicity of this terroir and is best appreciated during the tasting.

Grown according to the ancestral methods of Champagne, a reasoned viticulture is practiced: without insecticide or pesticide. The soil tillage is essential. This particular attention allows us to even select our own yeasts.

The LALLIER single vineyards bring an awakening of the senses through the discovery of Aÿ-Champagne's Grands Crus.

Tasting

Aspect: At first glance, LORIDON draws attention with its delicate creaminess and intense golden green glints; characteristics of the Chardonnay grape.

Nose: The immaculate aromas of fresh almonds and citrus will sweep you off your feet.

Palate: With its linear and smooth profile, this wine offers long persistence with a fresh and mineral character. LORIDON's aftertaste suggests a hint of fresh vanilla.

LORIDON will unveil its qualities when paired with savoury and iodised dishes. It can be perfectly appreciated with a scallop carpaccio for instance or poached cod in citrus juice. This wine is clean, shows great precision and is undoubtedly an added value to the finest dishes.

Our single-vineyard cuvee of chardonnay from Aÿ-Champagne won't make you feel indifferent; it will trigger a genuine awakening of the senses.
